

ERIN FLETCHER

Warrior Care Network Director

Erin Fletcher, Psy.D. serves as the Warrior Care Network director for Wounded Warrior Project® (WWP). In this role, Erin ensures collaboration across all WWP mental health programs.

Erin works with the four academic medical centers that comprise WWP's Warrior Care Network to foster network alignment regarding program implementation and delivery. Warriors taking part in Warrior Care Network receive a year's worth of mental health care during a two-week intensive outpatient program, using evidence-based treatments with alternative therapies.

Erin has over 15 years of mental health experience working with adults in a variety of treatment settings. Prior to working for Wounded Warrior Project, Erin served as the clinical director of an intensive outpatient treatment program for adults with anxiety disorders.

Erin holds a doctoral degree in clinical psychology and a master's degree in clinical psychology from The Illinois School of Professional Psychology. She also has a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in social work from Niagara University.

Contact: Amanda Chaney, Public Relations, achaney@woundedwarriorproject.org, 904.776.6031

About Wounded Warrior Project

Wounded Warrior Project is our nation's leading veteran services organization, focused on the total well-being of post-9/11 wounded, ill, or injured veterans. Our programs, advocacy, and awareness efforts help warriors thrive, provide essential lifelines to families and caregivers, and prevent veteran suicides. Learn more about Wounded Warrior Project.